The report states that the city recorded 250 cases in October. Officials are investigating the claim.